

HOW RELIABLE IS YOUR ARTICLE?

Using your daily article, answer the following questions to check the reliability of your article:

What is the title of your article?
What was the publication date of your article?
What organization published your article?
According to the Ad Fonte Matrix , where does your news source fall in political bias (x axis) and reliability (y axis)?
Why did your article make the news?
What is the purpose of your article? (To inform? To persuade? To entertain?) Explain how you know.
Who is the author of your article? IF you Google them, what information can you find about them?
Does the article contain any opinion: Statement? Quote? Observation?
Can you verify your story in other news sources?

Do you think your article is reliable? Explain your answer using evidence.
