Identify the Problem:
A student in the classroom makes fun of me because of the way I dress.
Desired Outcome:
I want the student to stop making fun of me.

Emotions	Solutions	Consequences
Empathetic Considerate Understanding	Targeted student's POV I ignore the mean comments and tell myself he may be right. I tell myself he must have problems at home so let it go.	The student will continue making fun of me. The student will continue making fun of me.
Analytical Reasonable Contemplate	I could avoid the student all day. I could talk to the teacher privately and see what s/he says. I could tell my parents and see if they will come talk to the principal.	This could possibly work. This lets the teacher know and it will give me a way to handle the problem. This could work, or it could make it worse.
Frustrated Angry Determined	I could make fun of him in return. I could push him and tell him to leave me alone.	This will escalate the problem. This will lead to me getting in trouble.

Selected Solution: I will talk to the teacher privately.
Outcome: The student will stop making fun of me.
